* We realize emergencies happen in life. If you must miss a session, you are required to listen to the recording of the class. Additionally, you will meet one-on-one with your trainer, at the cost of $100, payable directly to the trainer.

* Assignments must be submitted 48 hours before scheduled group training sessions.

* If a student misses AND is unable to complete the make-up session(s), or misses more than one training, the student will be withdrawn from the class. No refunds. Attending a future training requires payment of the full training fee for the new training session.
